A few days before playing against Paraguay for the 2014 Brazil qualifications, the Argentine National Soccer Team started the registration process for the AFAPLUS system at the Complex of the Ezeiza Estate, a place specially prepared for the occasion.

Ever Banega, Hugo Campagnaro, Sebastián Domínguez, Pablo Zabaleta and Agustín Orión were the players who, after training on Friday morning, stopped by the registration booth and followed the steps to complete the process. The National Technological University staff enrolled the players’ names and relevant data, then digitized their finger prints and finally captured the players pictures needed for the new biometric system to grant access to the stadiums.

Together with the staff of Argentina’s National soccer team, the Technical Director of the team, Alejandro Sabella, processed the AFAPLUS card along with the rest of the technical staff.

Before the start of the registration, Mr. Fernando Casalla, AFAPLUS /Project Leader, thanked the willingness of the players and their technical staff, as well as the Director of the Ezeiza Housing Complex, Mr. Rubén Moschella, for the ability to perform the registration at the Complex.

On Saturday, after further training for Tuesday’s game against Paraguayan National Soccer team, the registration continued for the National Selection Team. Players who performed the registration process were Mariano Andújar, Lucas Biglia, José Basanta, Erik Lamela, Fabricio Coloccini, Ricardo Álvarez, Rodrigo Palacio, Fernando Gago, Augusto Fernández, Sergio Agüero y Ezequiel Lavezzi.

Finally, on Sunday the registration for the AFAPLUS system was completed with Cristian Ansaldi, Ángel Di María and the captain of the National Selection team, Lionel Messi.

AFAPLUS takes the field and the National Selection players have processed their cards."
